OLD HAMMONDTOWN SCHOOL DEDICATION

A capacity audience turned out to take part in the dedication of the Old Hammondtown School in Mattapoisett on Sunday. The ceremonies were held in the auditorium of the building. Mr. Harris M. Murray, chairman of the building committee, opened the proceedings with a call for silent meditation. The Grade 6 chorus, directed by Mrs. Rhona Blasdale, then sang the musical response of three hymns. Mr. Manuel Rosa spoke in memory and tribute to the work of the late Manuel C. Linhares who served as Clerk of the Works on the school until his death. Mr. Roza said that a plaque will shortly be placed in the entrance corridor of the school in recognition of the contribution of Mr. Linhares. A moment of silent prayer was observed in his memory.

After the salute to the flag and the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, Dr. Joseph C. Kunces, Superintendent of Schools, spoke in greeting. He pointed out some of the fine teaching and recreational aid that are built into the structure and spoke of the pride that the townspeople can take in the facilities.

Mr. Robert D. Anderson, partner in the architectural firm which designed the building, spoke briefly and presented a gold key to the building to Mr. Murray. Mr. Murray then presented the key to Mr. David N. Haley, chairman of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen, who accepted the building for the town and in turn presented it to the Mattapoisett School Committee, represented by Dr. David Goodenough.

Mr. John R. Moynihan, supervising principal of Center School and Old Hammondtown School, introduced the principal speaker, Brigadier General Elton F. Hammond, who gave the address of dedication. General Hammond, who grew up in Mattapoisett and whose family name the school bears, well knows the value of education. The General was educated in the then new Center School and attended Fairhaven High School. He left high school before he could graduate to earn money to contribute to his family. Then, on his own, he completed his studies and applied to Annapolis. Because he was 15 days too old, he was turned down for the Naval Academy, and so applied to West Point. He was accepted and graduated from the Military Academy. He then began his army career, rising to Brigadier General.

In his address of dedication, he spoke of the accumulation of knowledge down through the ages. How this process is tied to the desire for freedom and how it reached its ultimate expression in the Constitution of the United States and in the Bill or Rights. He stated that our heritage must be preserved and constantly guarded, and that education is one of the foremost shields against the forces in the world which would destroy our heritage.

In conclusion the assemblage rose to sing "America the Beautiful" after which refreshments were served and pupils of the sixth grade conducted tours of the classrooms.

A Color Guard from the Florence Eastman Post #280, American Legion, Mattapoisett escorted General Hammond to the stage.

Members of the building committee were as follows: Harris M. Murray, chairman; Mrs. Ruth L. Heath, vice-chairman; Mrs. Drusilla Darrah, secretary; Harold V. Banks, treasurer; Manuel F. Roza, assistant treasurer; Charles

JUNIOR GRANGE INSTALLATION

The installation of officers of the Mattapoisett Junior Grange was held Sunday afternoon in the Grange Hall to a fine audience when Mark Harris was inducted as master.

A fine installing suite from Northboro, in their capes of red and gold, was headed by Carl Cole as installing master.

Assisting him were Mary Wheeler, 1st marshall; Jon Hammarston, 2nd marshall; Addie Wheeler, emblem bearer; Karen Wheeler, regalia bearer; Bridget Rogers, chaplain; Linda Rockford, soloist; and Mrs. Brann, pianist.

Other officers installed were Mark Breton,

Not present to be installed were Julie Harris, Elizabeth Bauer, John Alves and Milton Vaughan.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to the suite by the worthy master, Mark Harris.

Superintendent Shirley Murphy presented a past masters' jewel to Wayne Sylvia, pinned on by his mother, Mrs. William Sylvia. Wayne also was presented the Super J. G. award in recognition of a Grange test in oral ritual work and a true and false test. This is a high national award to the boy or girl in their memory ability. This was pinned on Wayne by his father.

Worthy master Harris appointed Mark Breton as membership chairman for the Grange Centennial membership drive under the State and National Grange.

Mrs. Ruth W. Shaw, president, conducted the business meeting. Seventeen members were present. The meeting opened with prayer by the chaplain, Mrs. Marjorie H. Wilson.

Mrs. Cynthia Power, treasurer, reported on proceeds of the Summer Fair. An invitation has been extended to the Ladies' Benevolent Society of East Fairhaven for a covered dish luncheon and social afternoon on October 18.

Plans were made for the lunch to be served to members of Long Plain Preparative Meeting, to be held at East Mattapoisett October 15th.

Mrs. Marian S. Hatton, who was first president of the Circle, has recently received from the National Grange a Merit of Achievement pin, for her work on the Home Economics Committee, only three of which are awarded in a State. The Hattons are planning to return to Mattapoisett to live.

Tentative plans were made to hold a reception for Mr. and Mrs. Earle D. Wilson, in cooperation with the Quaker Meeting.

FINE ARTS GROUP TO VISIT CERAMICS STUDIO

Lovers of art, and especially of Ceramic Arts, as well as those who enjoy a trip to Cape Cod at this season will take pleasure in the opening activities next week of the Fine Arts Group of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club.

On Wednesday morning, October 5th, Mr. David Davison, well known creator of pottery and ceramics, will receive the Fine Arts Group and its guests at his Studio Cone 9 on Route 6A, East Sandwich. The club president, Mrs. Frank Oxnard, as well as Fine Arts chairman, Miss Lydia LeB. Walker, will accompany the tour. A demonstration of the potter's wheel is promised.

Lunch has been planned at the nearby, attractive LaRochelle Restaurant. An opportunity to visit the Sandwich Glass Museum and/or the fabulous Doll Museum, soon to close for the season, is possible on this occasion at less than the usual low rate for any ten persons, as recently arranged by Miss Walker.

On Sunday, October 2nd, Miss Walker will

How to make sure you won't run out of heating oil

LET US KEEP TRACK of your fuel supply for you.
No more running out. No more last-minute calls for oil.
Everything is automatic. We compute your rate of fuel consumption based on the weather. Using the degree-day method, we can accurately predict how much heating oil you will use and when you will need more of it. When time comes, our truck appears at your home-well before you run low. No need to phone. No bother. We handle everything for you.
There is no charge for this special service. And you'll be getting Shell Heating Oil for top burner performance. Call us today for details.

SENIOR GIRL SCOUT MEETING

An organizational meeting for Senior Girl Scouts will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Tate, senior adviser, North Street, Mattapoisett, on Thursday night at 7 P.M. Any girl in grades 10-12 at Old Rochester Regional High School interested in Senior Scouting may attend. Further information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Tate.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DANCE

The Fall social event of the season is the night dinner dance of the Wareham Chamber of Commerce to be held in the "Gold Room" at Eugene's in Middleboro on Saturday, October 15th. The public is cordially invited to attend. A social hour from 6 to 7:30 will be followed by a full buffet and dancing until midnight by Don Mello's orchestra.

This is a party sponsored by the Wareham Chamber of Commerce semi-annually for their members and friends. Tickets are available from committee chairmen, Mrs. Thomas Thompson and Mrs. Emma Houle; also at Jay's Drug Store and Coburn Brothers at Wareham Plaza. Tickets are limited.

GUILD MEETING

The Mattapoisett Women's Community Guild will hold the first meeting of the season on October 4th at 2 P.M. in the Parish Hall.

Mrs. Harvey Mousley, who spent four years in Maracaiho, Venezuela while her husband was pastor of the Union Church of all English-speaking Protestants, will be the speaker. Her subject is "Come With Me to Little Venice", and she will tell about her experiences while in Venezuela.

Mrs. Giles Dunn will have charge of the worship service and Mrs. Benjamin Brintnall is hostess for the tea following the meeting. A baby sitting service will be provided.
